

Junior A1 check

Ages 9–10. This is not a mark and not a certificate. The student copy is the paper only. This copy has the commands, the rubric, the answer key, and the pictures.

On the day

1. Give out the student copy, or open Run on a tablet. Read the script below once. Do not translate it.
2. Twenty-five minutes. If they ask “What does this mean?”, say “You can leave it blank.”
3. Collect the papers. Do not say a mark. On the key, write the letter they marked. Right or wrong on its own does not name the error.
4. One learner at a time, 6–8 minutes. Hello. Sit down, please. Do not score the greeting.
5. Ask 4–6 warm-up questions. Then one picture, A to F. Put only that picture’s show page in front of the child. Ask 8–10 of its questions. Add at most two from the any-picture bank. Rotate A to F so children who sit together do not describe the same picture.
6. End with “Now you ask me a question.” Thank them. They go back to class.
7. After they leave, mark the rubric. Do not give the score in the room.

Do not do this in the room

Do not finish the sentence. Do not whisper the right pronoun. Do not correct.

Do not ask for a full sentence. Nine is a relevant answer.

After thirty seconds of silence, use the backup once, then move on. After two backups, leave that phase.

If they switch to Turkish, say “in English?” once. The second time, note it and move on.

If you gave a model, the interaction score is 1 at most.

Do not read a listen note or this key out loud.

What you read for the paper

This is not a mark. I want to see what you know. The instructions are short. I will say them once, and I will not translate each question. Task 1: look at the pictures and write the letter of the word. Task 2: read about Maya quietly and circle the right answer. Task 3: look at the picture and mark the word that completes the sentence. Task 4: circle the right word. Leave a question blank if you are not sure. Do not spend a long time guessing. Do not ask what a question means. I want to see that too. You have twenty-five minutes. Start.

HOW TO READ THE RESULT

A gap is a priority only in both places

Secure: at least 75% of the answered items. Developing: 50–74%. Clear gap: below that. A blank stays out of the percentage. They may have run out of time.

A pattern is a priority when it breaks on the paper and in speech. One side alone is not yet a confirmed gap. Keep the top three. Do not put every miss into the same week.

Floor items: book, rain, shoes, bird, pencil, bed, I am / age, can. If three or more of these are wrong, teach floor words first. Delay 3rd-person -s, there is/are, can as a new pattern, in/on/under, and the time phrase.

Do not claim mastery from one item. A one-item word set is thin: widen it if speech misses it too. Do not change the unit on a single miss.

A miss that only appears on a stretch item is a low priority. Pronunciation is a priority only at 0 or 1. Interaction is a priority at 0 or 1, or when they cannot ask.

After three learners, a shared gap opens the class lesson. It is not individual homework.

Speech total, when all five dimensions are scored: 0–5 below A1, 6–9 A1 threshold, 10–12 secure A1, 13–15 top of this test. This is not a report-card mark.

Learner

Class

Date

Paper right ____ / 32 · blank ____ · Speech ____ / 15 · Picture used: A B C D E F

0 to 3 on five dimensions

Press the box closest to what you saw. Do not average two boxes. An accent is fine if you understood them.

Communication Do they understand the question and give a relevant answer?

- ① Lost. No English answer. Still none after the backup question. Silence, or Turkish the whole time.
- ② Sparse. A relevant answer to fewer than half the questions. Mostly gestures, off-topic words, or one word.
- ③ Relevant. A relevant short answer to most questions. The topic is right even without a sentence.
- ④ Adds. Almost every question gets an answer, and at least two answers add one extra piece of information.

Vocabulary Do A1 words come?

- ① Closed. Number, family, food, and the objects in the picture do not come.
- ② Frame. A few words are there. They name fewer than half the objects in the picture.
- ③ Works. Family, one food, one after-school action, and most objects in the picture come. There is an occasional gap.
- ④ Ready. Topic words come quickly. A simple adjective or place phrase is there too.

Grammar Do A1 patterns hold?

- ① Pile. Words sit next to each other. There is no pattern such as I am or I like.
- ② One pattern. One pattern holds. he/she, plural, question order, or -s is scattered.
- ③ Holds. I am, I like, and I can are mostly right. One pattern still breaks in a systematic way.
- ④ Control. A1 patterns are mostly right. An error does not block the meaning.

Pronunciation Can you understand them?

- ① Closed. You know the word and still cannot recognise it.
- ② Hard. You often ask for a repeat. A final sound drops, or a vowel change turns the word into another word.
- ③ Open. Understandable when they speak slowly. One sound is wrong, but the meaning comes through.
- ④ Easy. Understood the first time. An accent is fine.

Interaction Can they build a question?

- ① None. No question. Still none after the model.
- ② Model. Repeats the question after the model. No question of their own. If you gave a model, the score is 1 at most.
- ③ Half. Tries their own question. The order may be broken: What your name?
- ④ Builds. Asks an understandable question and waits for the answer.

TICK IT IF YOU HEAR IT

Error list

Tick during the interview. Add anything you missed after they leave. A tick is what you heard, not a guess from the paper.

VOCABULARY

- ☐ The word does not come. Silence, or a switch to Turkish.
- ☐ Uses a wrong or neighbouring word
- ☐ Stays on one word and does not build a phrase

PRONUNCIATION

- ☐ The final consonant drops and the word shortens
- ☐ th moves far enough to change the meaning
- ☐ w / v mixed, so the word is not recognised
- ☐ A vowel shift turns the word into another word

GRAMMAR

- ☐ am / is / are mixed or dropped
- ☐ Uses have for age (I have nine)
- ☐ he / she mixed
- ☐ a / an missing or wrong
- ☐ Plural -s missing (two cat)
- ☐ 3rd-person -s missing (He play)
- ☐ Question order broken (What your name?)
- ☐ can broken (cans, can to)
- ☐ in / on / under mixed
- ☐ Cannot build there is / are
- ☐ Cannot build the negative (no like, not like)

INTERACTION

- ☐ Relevant, but one word. Nothing is added.
- ☐ Cannot ask, or only repeats the model
- ☐ Switches to Turkish when stuck

The child's sentence, as said

Note for yourself

WHAT TO TEACH NEXT

One job, then the next

Use the action that matches the priority. Do not run all of these in one week.

Floor words. Delay the higher patterns. Twelve pictures: book, pencil, milk, bird, shoes, rain, cat, apple, mum, dad, school, house. Four days: show and say, match, I see a..., then ask these floor items again. Do not start a new story.

He / she. The first three minutes of every lesson, two photos: one girl, one boy. Chorus: She is a girl. He is a boy. Then the learner builds their own sentence: My sister — she is... / My brother — he is... If there is an error, say the right pronoun and have the sentence once more. Turkish o has no gender. Say that once. Do not open a lesson on every error.

am / is / are and age. Keep three lines on the board: I am / She is / They are. If I have nine comes, split have off onto a thing: I have a cat. I am nine. Say both in the same breath. Do not give the same homework to the learner who chose have and the learner who chose is.

3rd-person -s. One pattern this week: He plays / She likes. On the board, He plays stands next to I play. The learner picks one person in the family and says two sentences. If He play still carries the meaning, accept it, let them hear the right model once, and do not stop the talk. Do not open the continuous for a learner who chose playing.

Plural -s. Show the number and add the object: one cat, two cats. When you hear two cat, write -s next to the number. Do not bring in the apostrophe this week for a learner who chose cat's. Maya's cat is another day.

a / an. Do not explain a rule sentence. Ten cards: apple, egg, orange, eraser, umbrella, and book, cat, dog, pencil, ruler. You say the card. The learner says only a or an, then you say it together. A learner who says a apple is looking at the letter. Let them hear the sound.

there is / are. Build it from the classroom: There is one teacher. There are many chairs. For a learner who chose They is, two lines: There = there is something there, They = they. Separate singular and plural on the same day, with a picture.

can. Three pictures: Birds can fly. Fish can swim. I can swim. If you hear cans or can to, show that the verb stays in the base form. can't is a separate lesson after this check.

in / on / under. Put the pen in the box, on the box, and under the box. One question: Where is the pen? The next day, open the interview picture. The cat is on the chair. The ball is under the table. Do not add another preposition.

Question order. The last sixty seconds of every lesson: Ask me a question. Week one, keep the model: What's your favourite colour? Week two, whisper the model. Week three, wait. For What your name?, three boxes on the board: What / is / your name? Do not make a game of swapping the boxes. Build the right order three times.

Negative: don't like. Have them mark the sentence in the text in two colours: like in green, don't like in red. A spoken pair: What do you like? What don't you like? If they say No like, say I don't like fish once. Do not ask for a long sentence.

Word set. Do not add the next unit's words until the weak set is closed. Eight pictures, four days: name, match, use in a sentence, speaking question.

Time phrase. After school and On Sunday do two jobs in the same text. The learner circles the time phrase and draws a line to the action. Then ask: On Sunday, does Maya play football? If they say no, the split has started.

Reading the text. Before any pattern work, have them read the text beside you, with no timer. If they can find the detail, the problem was time. If they cannot, read the sentence together and underline the answer line. Do not run a guessing race.

Being understood. Work only on the sound that blocks the meaning. If the final consonant drops, cat, book, milk — hold the final sound with a hand movement. For w/v, window and very. If you can understand them, this is not a class priority. At this age the aim of accent work is being understood.

Asking a question. Three weeks for a learner who needs a model. Week one, you say the question and they repeat it. Week two, whisper it. Week three, wait. Do not say the score to their face.

Answering. Silence and a switch to Turkish are different. If they are silent, make the backup a yes/no question: Do you like cats? If they switch to Turkish, say in English? once. The second time, note it and move on. Do not read the speaking note out loud.

Task 1. Look and match

See and link. They do not produce the word. swim is a verb. ruler, grandmother and foot are less frequent. book and rain are floor words. A letter that is not listed under the item means they named the picture with that word. The picture and the word are not separate yet.

1. rabbit Right: rabbit

A core animal word. It may be less frequent than the floor words. Knowing cat and dog but missing rabbit means the set is only half there.

2. window Right: window

Home set. Mixing it with door means the home words have collapsed into each other.

3. book Right: book · floor

Floor item. If book is missed, the learner may be below the A1 word line. Higher patterns wait.

4. bread Right: bread

Food set, recognised from the picture.

5. dress Right: dress

Clothes set. A dress on its own, not a picture of a person.

6. foot Right: foot

The only body item. Do not change the unit for one miss. Grow the set if it is also missing in speech.

D. swim. Mixed the foot picture with the action swim.

H. dress. Chose a clothes word instead of a body word.

7. swim Right: swim

Stretch item: a verb. It falls if the learner is only hunting for objects. Leaving it blank because they know swimming but cannot find swim also shows a weak action word.

A. rain. Chose a weather word instead of the action picture.

8. rain Right: rain · floor

Floor weather word.

9. grandmother Right: grandmother

Stretch family word. Knowing mother and father but missing grandmother is a normal A1 edge, not a panic item.

H. dress. Chose a clothes word instead of a family word. Grandmother may not yet be separate from mother.

10. ruler Right: ruler

Stretch school word. Knowing pencil and book but missing ruler means the set stops at the frequent words.

C. book. Book instead of ruler. Same school set; the words are not separate.

Task 2. Read

56 words. The real split is doesn't like and On Sunday. The other three items are details. A word in the text is not the same as a correct answer.

1. Maya is _____. Right: nine

A plain detail. A learner who misses this and then answers the later questions may be rushing.

a. eight. Not in the text. Skipped the number or guessed.

c. ten. Not in the text.

2. Maya lives with _____. Right: her mum, dad and little brother

Checks that a word in the text is not enough. Word recognition and understanding the sentence split here.

a. her friends. Friends is in the text, but in the football sentence. Not lives with.

c. her cat. She has a cat. That is not who she lives with. have a cat mixed with live with.

3. Maya's cat is _____. Right: white

A short adjective detail. If the colour word is weak, this falls. It may be vocabulary, not reading.

a. black. Not in the text.

b. brown. Not in the text.

4. Maya doesn't like _____. Right: fish

The reading item that carries the check. A learner who sees don't like chooses fish. Apples or milk means they jumped to a familiar word in the text.

a. apples. From the positive list. Did not read doesn't like. Went to a familiar word.

b. milk. From the positive list. Missed the negative sentence.

5. On Sunday Maya _____. Right: visits her grandmother

Two times, two actions. A learner who cannot separate after school from On Sunday is scanning word by word and missing the sentence boundary.

a. plays football. The after-school action. Did not separate the time phrase.

c. goes to school. School is in the text, but after school. School was invented for Sunday.

Task 3. Look and choose

The word is inside a sentence. The breakfast picture shows three objects. If drink is not read, bread or eggs is chosen.

1. These are my _____. Right: shoes · floor

Floor clothes item. The picture alone separates the words.

- b. hats. Wrong piece inside the clothes set.
- c. shirts. Wrong piece inside the clothes set.

2. I drink ____ in the morning. Right: milk

Three objects are visible at once. A learner who knows the words but does not read drink chooses bread or eggs.

- a. bread. It is in the picture, but it does not go with drink. The verb was not read.
- c. eggs. It is in the picture, but it does not go with drink.

3. This is a _____. Right: bed · floor

Floor home word.

- b. door. Home-set distractor. Did not look at the picture.
- c. window. Home-set distractor. Did not look at the picture.

4. A ____ can fly. Right: bird · floor

Floor animal item. The picture and can fly agree.

- a. fish. Animal set, but it does not fly.
- b. dog. Animal set, but it does not fly.

5. I write with a _____. Right: pencil · floor

Floor school item. Ruler and eraser are the same set. The picture is a pencil.

- a. ruler. Same school set. Not write with a ruler.
- c. eraser. Same school set. Not for writing.

6. It is cold and white. It is _____. Right: snow

Stretch weather item. The sentence carries the clue: cold and white. Choosing rain means they stayed in the weather set and did not read the adjective.

- a. rain. From the weather set. Did not use the clue cold and white.
- c. sun. From the weather set, and the opposite of the clue.

Task 4. Circle the word

Each item is one pattern. The options are not tricks. They are errors you hear at this age. Write the letter the learner marked. Right or wrong on its own does not name the error.

1. I ___ nine years old. Right: am · floor

Floor pattern, and the most common transfer. The learner who chooses have is not the learner who chooses is. Write the option in the note.

- b. have. have for age. A word-for-word transfer of the Turkish age pattern: I have nine.
- c. is. is does not agree with I.

2. She ___ my sister. Right: is

The be paradigm. Separate from the age item: there is no have distractor here.

- a. am. am does not agree with She.
- c. are. are with a singular subject.

3. It is ___ apple. Right: an

The only article item, a vowel sound. a apple is an expected error at this age.

- a. a. a before a vowel sound. an is not there yet.
- c. two. One picture. Number mixed with the article.

4. I have two ___. Right: cats two + noun. The cat's option is there to separate the possessive mix-up.

- a. cat. No plural -s after the number.
- c. cat's. Plural mixed with the possessive apostrophe. Maya's cat is another lesson. Do not teach it on this item.

5. Elif is a girl. ___ is my friend. Right: She girl → she. The sentence says girl. This is matching, not general knowledge.

- a. He. he for a girl. Turkish o has no gender. The most common A1 transfer.
- c. It. it for a person.

6. Ali is a boy. ___ is my friend. Right: He boy → he. Read it with the Elif item. If both are reversed, it is a pattern, not a slip.

- b. She. she for a boy. he and she may be systematically swapped.
- c. It. it for a person.

7. My brother ___ football every day. Right: plays every day rules out the present continuous. The learner who chooses playing should not get the same lesson as the learner who chooses play.

- a. play. No 3rd-person -s. He play.
- c. playing. -ing mixed with -s. Do not open the continuous this week.

8. Birds ___ fly. Right: can · floor

Floor pattern. cans and can to are the two breaks you hear at this level.

- b. cans. Added -s to can.
- c. can to. Brought to in after can.

9. The cat is ___ the box. Right: in

The only preposition item with a picture. Read it together with the cat and the ball in speech.

- a. on. The picture is inside the box, not on it.
- c. under. Not under the box.

10. ___ two dogs in the garden. Right: There are Plural there are. They is is a separate mix-up. Drop it.

- a. There is. there is with a plural noun. No number agreement.
- c. They is. there mixed with they, and the verb is singular.

11. You meet a new friend. What do you say? Right: What's your name?

The same pattern as the last interview question. If it is broken on paper and the child only repeats your model in the room, keep the interaction score low as well.

- b. What your name?. is dropped after What. The broken question you hear most often in speech.
- c. Your name what?. The question word is at the end. Statement order.

Oral check · Describe the picture

124 questions. Do not ask all of them to one child. A learner warms up, then sees one picture. Rotate the pictures from A to F. Two children who sit together do not describe the same picture.

Name _____

Class _____

Date _____

1. Hello. Sit down, please. Do not score the greeting. Then ask 4–6 warm-up questions. About two minutes. Do not ask all of them. Use a backup only after silence.
2. Choose one picture. Put only that picture's "look" page in front of the child. Keep this page.
3. Ask 8–10 questions about that picture. The list does not have to be finished. Stop if the child gets tired.
4. Add at most two questions from the "any picture" bank.
5. Do not correct, finish the sentence, or demand a full sentence. Nine is a relevant answer.
6. After thirty seconds of silence, move to the next question. If they switch to Turkish, say "in English?" once.

Personal questions

No picture. Name, age, family, food, after school.

- 1 Hello. What's your name?
Expected: Maya. / I'm Maya.
Backup: Say their name from the list and ask Are you ...?
Listen: The name is enough. Do not wait for a full sentence.

- 2 How old are you?
Expected: I'm nine. / I am ten.
Backup: Are you nine? Are you ten?
Listen: I have nine is a transfer. Nine alone is a relevant answer.

- 3 How are you today?
Expected: I'm fine. / I'm happy.
Backup: Are you happy? Are you OK?
Listen: Not understanding the question is a communication note.

- 4 Who is in your family?
Expected: My mum, my dad and my sister.
Backup: Tell me one person in your family.
Listen: A family word. Tick he/she if it comes on its own.

- 5 How many people are in your family?
Expected: Four. / There are four people.
Backup: Two? Three? Four?
Listen: A number. Note a plural if it comes on its own.

- 6 What food do you like?
Expected: I like apples.
Backup: Do you like apples? Do you like milk?
Listen: like + a food. One word is still a relevant answer.

- 7 What food don't you like?
Expected: I don't like fish.
Backup: Do you like fish?
Listen: No like / not like is a broken negative.

- 8 What do you do after school?
Expected: I play football. / I go home.
Backup: Do you play football? Do you watch TV?
Listen: If the subject is I, I plays is not a 3rd-person error.

- 9 Can you swim?
Expected: Yes, I can. / No, I can't.
Listen: cans, can to.

- 10 What's your favourite colour?
Expected: Blue. / My favourite colour is blue.
Listen: A colour word.

- 11 Have you got a pet?
Expected: Yes, I have a cat. / No.
Listen: An animal word. No is enough if they have none.

- 12 Now you ask me a question.
Expected: What's your name? / How old are you?
Backup: Ask me, what's your favourite colour?
Listen: Wait five seconds. If you give a model, interaction is 1 at most.

You can ask these on any picture

The answer changes with the picture. Read the expected column against that picture. Add two questions at most.

- 1 Look at the picture. What can you see?
Expected: I can see a boy and a cat. / There is a cat.
Listen: An object name. Write there is/are or can if it comes on its own.

- 2 Tell me more. What else can you see?
Expected: A book. A ball. A window.
Listen: Does a second and third word come, or do they stay on one object?

- 3 How many people can you see?
Expected: One. / Two. / There are two people.
Listen: Number + plural. Note one people.

- 4 What colour is this? (point to one object)
Expected: It's red. / Red.
Listen: Colour. It's may drop.

- 5 Where is it?
Expected: On the table. / Under the chair.
Listen: in / on / under. A point is not a place. Wait for the word, then note it.

- 6 Is it big or small?
Expected: It's big. / Small.
Listen: An adjective. Move on if they do not know it.

- 7 What is he doing? / What is she doing?
Expected: He is reading. / She is cooking. / Sleeping.
Listen: The action word carries the meaning. If -ing is missing, write it as grammar and do not break communication. he/she.

- 8 Is there a cat?
Expected: Yes, there is. / No, there isn't.
Listen: No if it is not in the picture. Note an invention.

- 9 Point to the ball. What is this?
Expected: It's a ball. / A ball.
Listen: Naming. a/an.

- 10 What is next to the boy?
Expected: A chair. / A dog. / A table.
Listen: They may not know next to. Naming the thing beside it is enough.

- 11 What is on the table?
Expected: Apples. / A book. / Nothing.
Listen: on. It changes with the picture.

- 12 What is under the table?
Expected: A cat. / A ball. / The shoes.
Listen: under. A preposition if it is mixed with on.

- 13 Count the apples. How many?
Expected: Three. / There are three apples.
Listen: A number. three apple is a missing plural.

- 14 Who is this?
Expected: A boy. / A teacher. / A girl.
Listen: Who. Follow with he/she: She is a girl.

- 15 What is he wearing? / What is she wearing?
Expected: A red T-shirt. / A yellow dress.
Listen: Clothes + colour. If they do not know wearing, ask What colour is his shirt?

- 16 Do you like this picture?
Expected: Yes, I do. / No, I don't.
Listen: A short opinion. Do not push for a reason.

Look at the picture.

PICTURE A · TEACHER

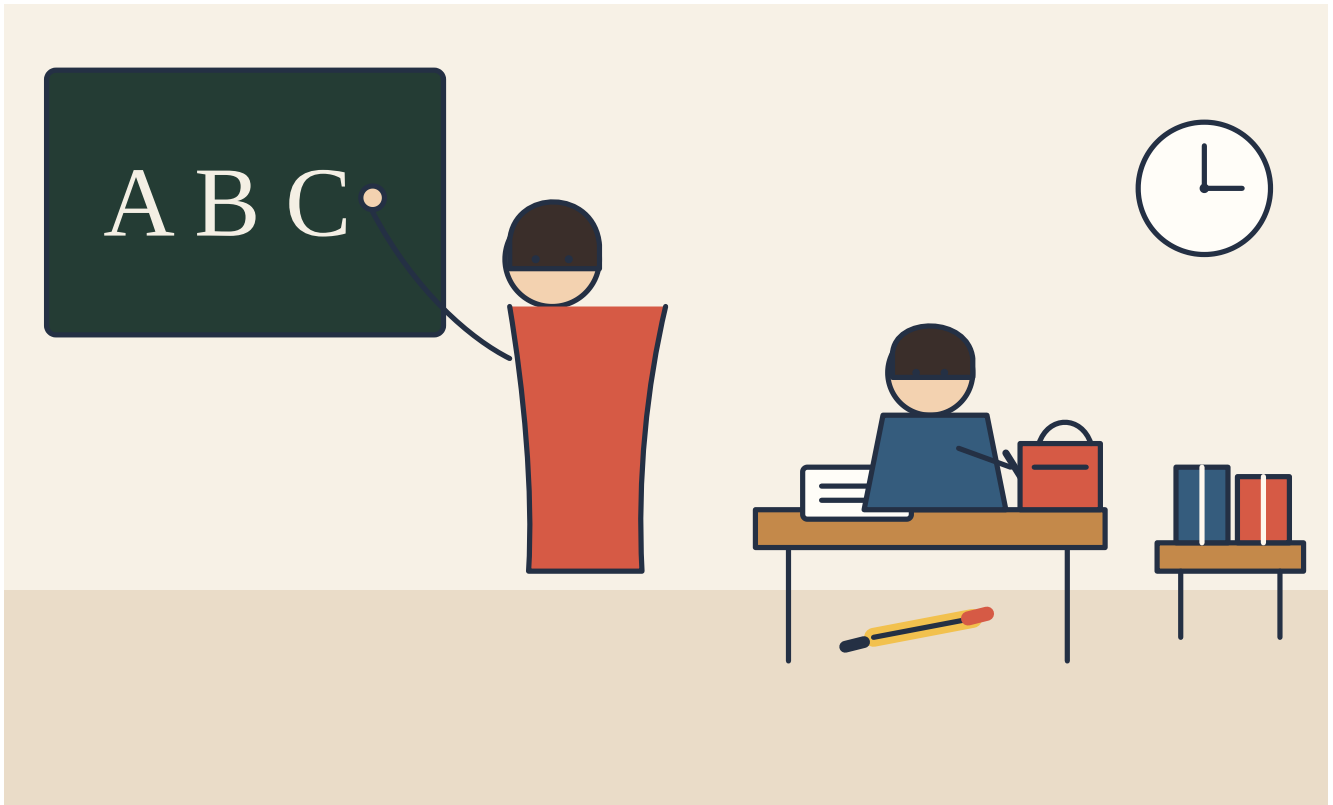

The living room

A child is sitting on the rug, reading a book. An orange cat is on the green chair. A red ball is under the brown table, between the legs. There is a sun in the window.

16 questions. Ask 8–10 of them with one child.

- 1 Look at the picture. What can you see?
Expected: I can see a boy, a cat and a ball.
Listen: At least two objects. there is / I can see.
- 2 How many people are there?
Expected: One. / There is one boy.
Listen: A number.
- 3 Is it a boy or a girl?
Expected: A boy. / He is a boy.
Listen: boy. Then he.
- 4 What is the boy doing?
Expected: He is reading. / Reading a book.
Listen: read/reading. boy book counts as a pile. she is the pronoun.
- 5 What is he holding?
Expected: A book.
Listen: book. a may be missing.
- 6 Is he sleeping?
Expected: No. / No, he isn't. He is reading.
Listen: Negative. The meaning no is enough.
- 7 What colour is the cat?
Expected: Orange. / It's orange.
Listen: Colour. If they say yellow, note it. Do not count it as fully right.
- 8 Where is the cat?
Expected: On the chair. / The cat is on the chair.
Listen: on. in the chair or under is the preposition.
- 9 Is the cat under the chair?
Expected: No. It's on the chair.
Listen: If they say yes, they misread the picture or do not know under.
- 10 Where is the ball?
Expected: Under the table.
Listen: under. on the table is wrong.
- 11 What colour is the ball?
Expected: Red.
Listen: Colour.
- 12 Is the ball on the table?
Expected: No. It's under the table.
Listen: The on/under split.
- 13 What can you see in the window?
Expected: The sun. / It's sunny.
Listen: sun. It's raining means they are not looking at the picture.
- 14 Is there a dog?
Expected: No.
Listen: Invention. No, there isn't is strong.
- 15 What colour is the chair?
Expected: Green.
Listen: Colour.
- 16 Tell me three things in the picture.
Expected: A boy, a cat and a ball.
Listen: Three words, or one word?

Look at the picture.

PICTURE B · TEACHER

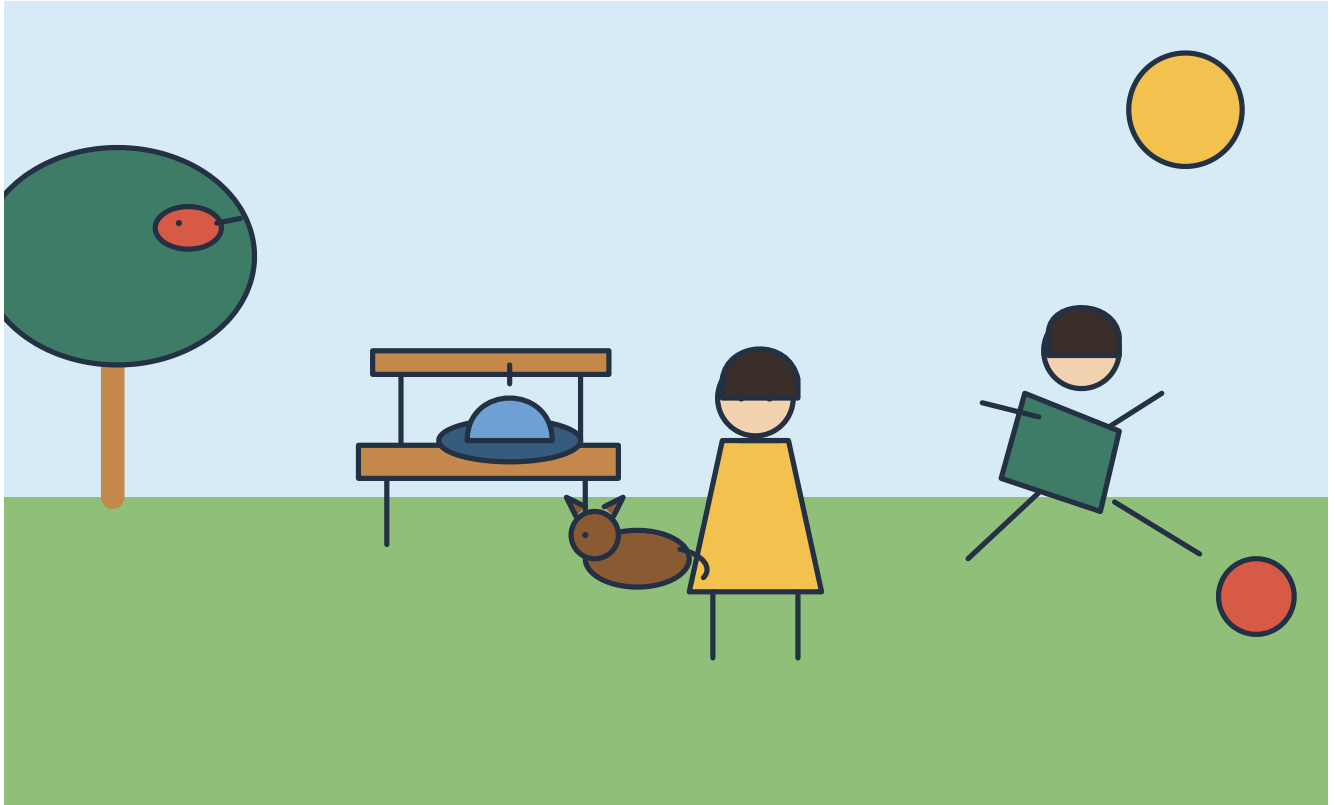

The classroom

The teacher is pointing at A B C on the board. A boy in a blue shirt is writing at a desk. A red bag is on the desk. A yellow pencil is on the floor under the desk. Two books are on the small table to the right. There is a clock on the wall.

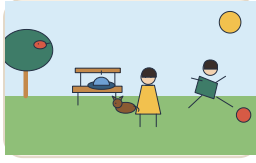

16 questions. Ask 8–10 of them with one child.

- 1 What room is this?
Expected: A classroom. / It's a school.
Listen: classroom or school. If they do not know it, ask What can you see?
- 2 What can you see?
Expected: A teacher, a boy, a bag and books.
Listen: Two objects is enough.
- 3 How many people are there?
Expected: Two.
Listen: two people. two person is also heard.
- 4 Is the teacher a man or a woman?
Expected: A woman. / She is a woman.
Listen: woman/girl. she.
- 5 What is the teacher doing?
Expected: She is teaching. / Pointing at the board.
Listen: An action. She is pointing is accepted. He is the pronoun.
- 6 What is on the board?
Expected: A, B, C. / Letters.
Listen: A letter. They do not have to know ABC. letters or the board is enough.
